A NOTE FROM MISS PARTON

Warm Welcome Back!

It has been an invigorating week seeing so many familiar faces and welcoming our children back to school. The energy and enthusiasm across the school have been palpable, with children eager to delve into their lessons and reunite with their friends. We're truly proud of how our children have embraced our school's core principle of 'RESPECT'. The vibrancy of their work, now adorning our walls, is a testament to their creativity and enthusiasm. We're eagerly looking forward to welcoming all parents and guardians on our open day scheduled for the 5th of October. Make sure you mark your calendars! Here's wishing all our families a restful weekend. The school is abuzz with anticipation for another week filled with learning, growth, and fun. See you bright and early on Monday morning!

'A book is a gift you can read again and again'

Exciting addition to our school. Thanks to a generous donation from the family in memory of Barbara Atcheson (former Headteacher of Stratford Primary) we have a book vending machine. Each week the winners of a Headteacher's award will receive a token to go and choose a book from the machine. Barbara loved books and reading and was the driving force behind our school library being built in the 1990's so it is only fitting that we remember her through the power of books and reading.
